Presented from the House of Commons to the Lords by Master

Thomas Pym

P Y M

At a Conference of both Houses

Concerning the Cause and Remedies of Division betwixt the King and his Subjects.

Under eight severall Heads.

This may well be called one and the same thing in respect of the various resolutions it comprehends, and the same in respect of the have the same force, they have the same Effects and Benefits.
It is impossible to be divided into many parts, and yet to effect the King the common good, and the Kingdom, and the Kingdom, and the Kingdom, any man fully understands his duty to God, and to his Country, and to his
of the other parts of this duty, and to his Country, and to his Country, and to his Country.

The Commons have now taken into their consideration the completion of this duty, and to his Country, and to his Country, and to his Country.

At a Conference of both Houses

Mr. Pym presented divers Propositions from the House of Commons to the Lords in this manner.

My Lordes,

My Knights, Citizens, and Burgeses assembled for the Commons in Parliament have commanded me to express their continued desires, that as the duties and affections of both Houses are united upon the same Ends to glorifie God in his Church, his true Religion, to serve the King in the preservation of his Royall Person and Dignity, and to procure the common good in maintaining the Justice and Liberty of the Kingdome, so the Counsell of both may be ever constantly united in the use and pursuit of such means as may most effectually conduce to this End.

This may well be called one End, though in respect of the severall Relations it comprehends these three Branches, they have the same Roote, they have the same Essence and Being. It is impossible that any man should truly effect the King, or the common good, that is the end of Religion, neither can any man fully discharge his duty to God that is not careful of these other great Obligations to his Majesty and the State.

The Commons have now taken into their consideration divers points very important to the accomplishing of this great End, which I am commanded to represent to your Lordships that if they be agreeable to your Judgements, you may then be pleased to joyn with them.

rod for disturbance of the peace both of England and Scotland, and although God in which mercy hath hitherto delivered us, yet there is just cause to thinke that the same Enemies of Religion and of the Common-good will continue by new Plots to seek out ruine and destruction, which nothing is so likely to prevent, as the Wildome and Authority of his Majesty, assisted by the Advice of this Parliament, which is the reason that the House of Commons have at this time been more intentive upon these ensuing Propositions, which by their direction, I come to propound to your Lordships under Eight severall Heads,

1. The first Head concerns his Majesties Council of State, this Proposition hath onely two Branches.

1. That his Majesty be humbly Petitioned to remove those evil Counsellors against whom there shall be any just exception, and that the Intention of the Commons may the better be apprehended, I am commanded to describe them thus, that they are such as have been Active and bold in promoting the manifest disorders and pernicious courses which have lately been taken to the great hazard of his Majesties Royall Estate, and oppression of the People, or such as doe still persevere to hinder or oppose the Reformation of those abuses in Parli-ment, or seek to stirre up new causes of Division betwixt the King and his Subjects.

I have further direction to tell your Lordships, that the House of Commons do for the present, forbear to deliver any Charge against any particular persons, hoping that his Majesty by his owne Wildome will find out those that are faulty, but if in this way they shall not have that successe which they desire, they intend in convenient time to present particular exceptions against such persons whose continuance in place of trust and publique employment they conceive will be prejudiciall to the State.

And my Lords, It is not to be wondred at, if the House of Commons desire evil Counsellors to be removed, the mi-series and disempers, under which the Kingdome labours must needs make them sensible of that which is the cause of their troubles.

Thank you

those ministers, those who have bin active in these latter times in managing his Majesties affaires, have bin directed and intentive upon their owne degrees, but not upon the common good, if not opposite to it, and the increase hath bene unfavourable, Religion and indeed the Honour and wealth of his Majesty and of the Kingdome have withered and decayed.
Popery, Superstition in the Church, divers mischievous projects, oppression, Extortion in the Common-wealth have increased and flourished and many of those who have bin Actors in these common Calamities have raised their Fortunes upon the publique ruine; the answer of the Gardiner may somewhat fit our Case, who being asked what the reason was that Tress and good Hearbes required so much care and dre-wing to make them prosper, he returned this Reason, that the Earth was Mother to the Weeds, and but a Nurse to the Hearbes.

Kings and Queens are said in the Scripture to be nourishing Fathers and nursing Mothers and so they ought to be the Father and the Mother in caring for the Child towards the good of it, but these evill Councillours have had other designs and Aymes which have diverted their endeavours from the common good and thereby have brought us into such a State and Condition, as if we had bin under Hirelings such as seek their owne advantage, mischiefs like burisull Weeds have prospered under their Government, as the fruit of their owne intentions, but those things as might have bin for the benefit of the Common-wealth, have not onely found a difficult progress but often much opposition and discouragement.

The other Branches of this Head is this, that His Majestie would be graciously pleased to commit his owne Businesse and the affaires of the Kingdome to such Councillours and Officers as his Parliament may have cause to confide in.

The second Head concerning the Queens Majesty.

1. That his Majestie will be graciously pleased by advice of his Parliament to perswade the Queen to accept some of the Nobility and others of trust into her service, in such places as are now in her disposing, this wee doe with more confidence

State proposed, because her Majesty was pleased since the meeting of this Parliament, to send a gracious Message to the House of Commons, wherein she expressed her desire to consult with the Parliament in those things which might be for the publique good, for which she received humble thanks, and we cannot but hope that this Petition of the Parliament will be acceptable to her Majesty as being those means by which she might alwayes be informed of all occasions and opportunities wherein she may further the Common good of the Kingdomes.

2. That no Jesuite be received into her Majesties Service, nor any Priest native of any his Majesties Dominions; and that all such Jesuites and Priests be straitly restrained from coming to the Court.

3. That the Colledge of Capuchines may be dissolved, and that they may be sent away out of the Kingdomes.

These points concerning Jesuites, Priests and Capuchines, are to be seconded with others Resolutions.

1. The danger and scandall of Religion and the peace of the Kingdome.

2. The disaffection to the State manifested in two Letters dated 6 May, directed to persons beyond the Sea, whereby many scandalls are cast upon the Parliament and the good Subjects of this Kingdome under the name of Rastrates as disaffected and intireous to the Queenes person, and thereupon the Cardinall excited to some designe against England, and likewise in the Letter of Father Phillips wherein by way of reproach to the Parliament, he writ that the Protestation taken in both Houses, is like the Scotch Covenant, but somewhat worse.

3. Divers informations are given that great quantities of Gold are transported by the Jesuits.

4. The fourth point concerning the Queens Majesty is upon the speciall occasion of his Majesties absence, that your Lordsships will joyn with the House of Commons in advising the King that some of the Nobility and others of quality with competent Guard may be appointed to attend the Queen

that the like here may be taken, as the said his Maie's Children.

4. The fourth Head concernes Papists more generally, where it is declared that his Maie's pleasure be moved, in these particular words, viz. That he will be pleased to be very sparing in granting Licences to any Papists to come to the Court.

5. That if any come without Licence, the Lawes may be severally put in execution upon them.

That all English Ladies being Papists, may be sent from the Court.

4. That no pensions may be allowed and sent out of the King's Exchequer, to any of the Papists abroad.

5. That all English Papists, as well of Nobility as others, shall be conceived dangerous to the State, and be confined to such places in the Kingdom, as shall be appointed, where they shall have no power to raise any money, or to be absent from the Kingdom, without leave first obtained from the Court.

5. The Fifth Head concerning the Popes Nuncio.

That it may be declared by an Act of Parliament, that if any man shall presume to come into this Kingdom with instructions from the Pope, or Court of Rome, that he shall be in case of high treason, and out of the protection of the King, and of the Law.

6. The Sixth Head concerning the security and Peace of the Kingdom.

1. That his Maie'ty by advice of the Parliament, will be pleased to place good Lord Lieutenants in every Countie, with direction to be very carefull in the choise of deputie Lieutenants.

2. That the trained Bands be furnished with Armes, powder, and Bullet, and that they be exercised, and made fit for Service, and an Oath prepared by the Authority of the King and Parliament, to be taken by the Lord Lieutenants, Captaines, and other Officers of the trained Bands, whereby they may be obliged faithfully to serve the King and State.

3. That

1. That the Cinque Ports and other Ports of the Kingdom shall be taken into consideration that if there be any defect in the same they may be repaired to the satisfaction of the that special care be taken for reparation and provision of the Ports.

2. That my Lord Admiral be desired to inform the Parliament in what state the Navie is, that if there be any defect it may be provided for out of the Monies that are income in upon the Tunnage and Poundage.

3. That my Lord High Treasurer be desired to inform His Majesty will be pleased to give a Bill for the relief of the said, to prepare a general pardon in such a manner as may be for the reliefe and security of his good Subjects.

4. The eight Head of the Committee of both Houses shall be desired to appoint a select Committee of the Members of your House to pay with a proportionable number of the House of Commons from time to time to consider of such particular matters as shall be most expedient for settling the Propriety of the said lands and good.

5. That the said Committee be desired to consider of the manner in which the said lands may be best disposed of
and to report thereon to the next Session of Parliament.

FINIS

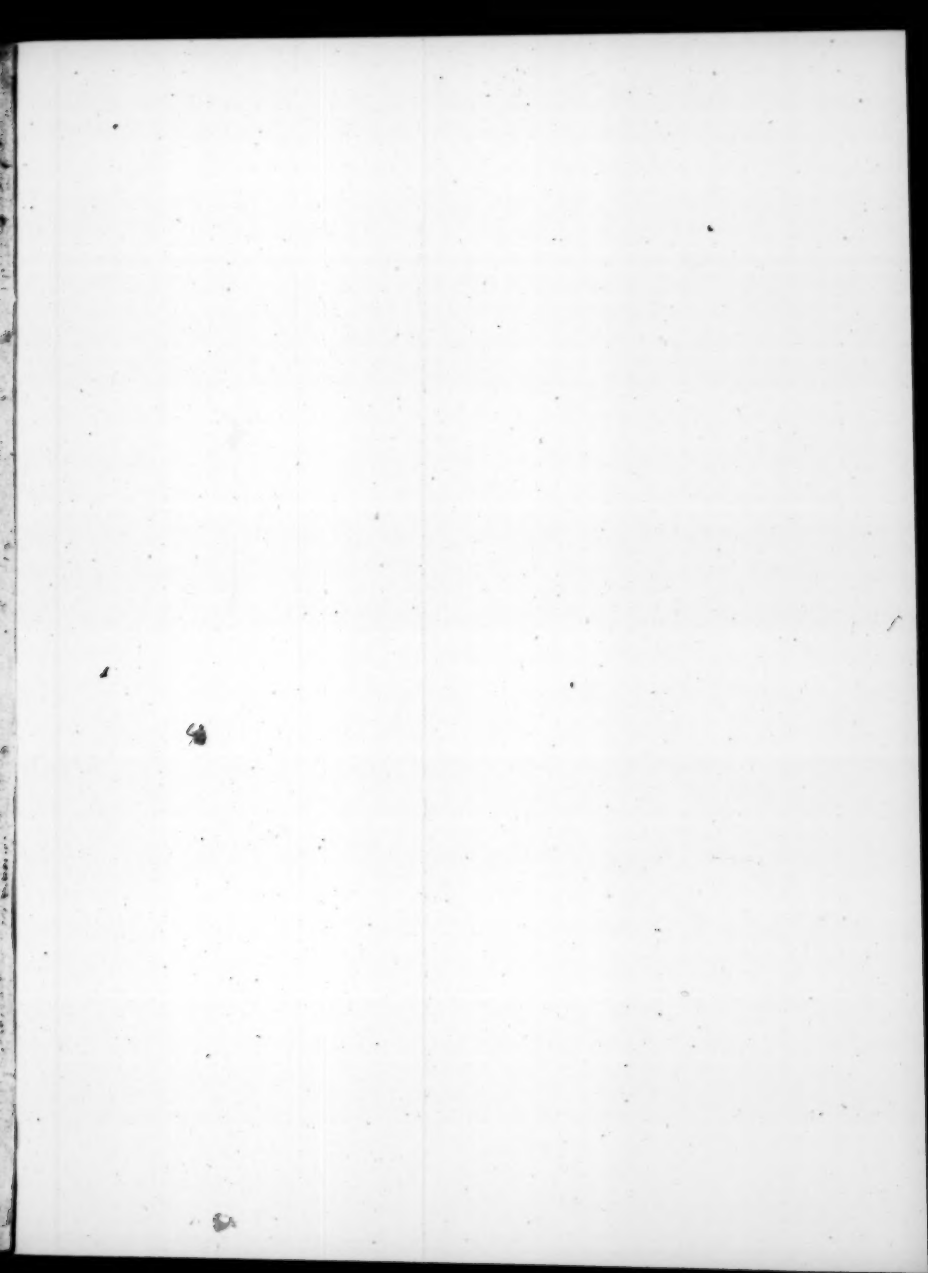

6. That the said Committee be desired to consider of the manner in which the said lands may be best disposed of
and to report thereon to the next Session of Parliament.

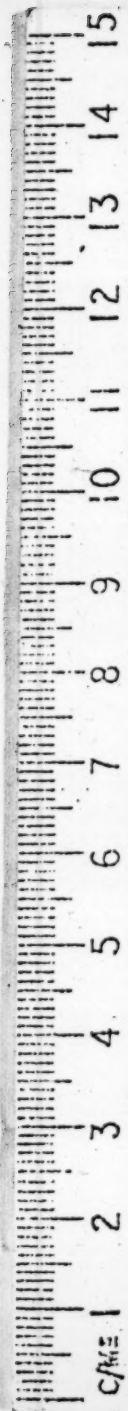

7. That the said Committee be desired to consider of the manner in which the said lands may be best disposed of
and to report thereon to the next Session of Parliament.

TABLES

SHEWING

The Sunday Letter, Golden Number, Epact, and Moveable Feasts.

IN the Table shewing the Circle of the Sun and Dominical Letter, right against the year of our Lord, you have in the next column the circle of the Sun, the Dominical letter according to our English Account in the third column, and the Dominical letter according to the ~~foreign~~ foreign account in the fourth column.

Example. This present year 1668. the circle of the Sun is 25, the English Letters are E D, and the Roman A G, the first is the Sunday letter until the 24 of

February,

An Explanation of the Tables.

February, and the other all the year after.

Note also, that when the years in this Table are expired, you may begin them again by placing 1696 in the room of 1668, and so on, and the contrary for any time past, and so the Table will be perpetual. Or the Cycle of the Sun may be Arithmetically found in this manner.

Add 9 to the year of our Lord (because our Saviour was born when the Cycle was 9) and divide the sum by 28 the quotient will shew how often this circle hath gone about since Christs birth, and the remainder will shew which of the 28 the present is, if nothing the Cycle is 28. Example, To the year of our Lord 1668, I add 9, and it maketh 1677, which being divided by 28, the quotient is 59, and so often hath this circle gone about, since our Saviours birth, the remainder is 25, which is the Cycle of the Sun for that year, as was said before.

The Table shewing the Prime or Golden Number, and Epact is in like manner divided into four columns, in the first is the year of our Lord, the Golden Number in the second, the English Epact in the third, and the Roman Epact in the fourth. Thus in the year 1668 the Golden Number is 16. The English Epact 26, and the Roman 16. When the years in this Table are expired, they may be continued as in the former example, ample, by placing 1687 in the room of 1668, and the contrary for any time past, and so this Table also will be perpetual.

An Explanation of the Tables.

Or the Golden Number and Epact may be Arithmetically found in this manner.

To find the Golden Number, adde 1 to the year of our Lord, and divide the sum by 19, the remainder is the Golden Number. As for Example, I add one to the year 1668, and it maketh 1669, which being divided by 19, the remainder is 16, which is the Golden number as before.

To find the English Epact, multiply the Golden number by 11, and the product <sup>rather di</sup> divide by 30, the remainder is the Epact. <sup>vide G.N. by</sup> Example, In the year 1668 the Golden <sup>3. 220 10. 10</sup> Number is 16, which being multiplied by <sup>4 remainder</sup> 11, the product is 176, which being divided <sup>to 4 G.N.</sup> by 30 the remainder is 26, which is the Epact as before.

Having thus found the Cycle of the Sun, Dominical Letter, Golden Number, and Epact, you may easily find the moveable Feasts: for if you seek the English Epact in the first column of the Table, and your Sunday Letter that next followeth it in the second, right against your Sunday Letter is set down the moveable Feasts required. Example, In the year of our Lord 1668 the Sunday Letters are E D, and the Epact 26, this Epact 26 is the last in the Table, and the first E that followeth it, is in the second line, which sheweth that Ashwednesday is Feb. 5. and because that Letter serveth for no longer time than the 24 of February, therefore the letter D must give me the other Feasts, which is the Letter above it, and so I find March the 22. to be Easter-day, April 30. Ascension-day, May 10. Whitsunday, &c.

In like manner the Epact in the Forraign account is 16, the Sunday Letters A G, which being sought in the two last columns of this Table, according to the former directions, I find Feb. 22. to be Ashwednesday, April 8. Easter day, May the 17 Ascension day, &c.

POSTSCRIPT
TO

The Scale of Interest:

OR,

A Direction for the Deans and Chapters in Cathedrals, for the Heads and Fellows of Colledges in both Universities, in their letting of Leases, and taking of Fines.

Since this Treatise was Printed, I had this Question propounded to me :

If One pound be given to renew 7 years after 14, what shall be given for 4 years after 17.

The which Question, with others of the like nature, Cathedral Churches and Colledges, have frequent occasion to resolve, but I know no Tables extant to that purpose : In this Treatise, these Questions may be indeed resolved, by the Table shewing the present worth of Annuities at

Postscript.

10 several rates of Interest, but not without some trouble; for the rates of Interest in that Table, do not exactly fit the rate of Interest suteable to the Question, as by inspection may easily be discerned; 11 pound per Cent. per Annum is too little, and 12 per Cent. too much, and by taking the part proportional, I found the rate of Interest suteable to the Question to be 11 Pounds, 11 Shillings, 8 Pence Farthing, and 3 tenths of a Farthing. And so much do the Tenants of Cathedral Churches and Colledges make of their Money, in the aforesaid proportion of renewing their Leases.

And therefore to make this Treatise as serviceable as I could to all mens occasions, I have here Annexed a short Table suteable to this rate of Interest, for the just proportioning of the fines in the renewing of Leases for any time under 21 years, which is the utmost extent of time for which such Leases are now made, Leases for Lives and Houses excepted.

And this Table doth consist of two parts, the first sheweth the present worth of One Pound for any number of years under 22, and is to be used as the other Tables of that nature in this Treatise.

Example. Let the present worth of 53 pounds per annum for 13 years be required. The present worth of 1 l. for that time is 6.55907, which being

A TABLE shewing the present worth of Annuities at 11 pound, 11 shillings, 8 pence farthing, and  $\frac{3}{10}$  tenths of a farthing per Cent. per Annum.

Being the Rate of Interest allowed to Tenants in their Leases of Lands, which they hold from Cathedral Churches and Colledges.

ing multiplied by 53, the product is 343.63071, and therefore the present worth of 53 pounds per annum for 13 years to come is 343 pounds, 12 shillings, 7 pence farthing, the like may be done for any other.

The second part of this Table sheweth the present worth of one pound Annuity for any number of years expired under 21, as in the Question propounded to me, when 7 years in such a Lease are expired, what fine shall be paid to renew such a Lease for 7 years; that is, what shall be paid to make the 14 years remaining in that Lease 21 years again; or, what is 7 years worth after 14. By this Table

The present worth of 21 years is, 7. 77507

The present worth of 14 years is, 6. 77507

And their difference One pound, 1. 00000 is the present worth of one pound Annuity for 7 years after 14. But to save this labour, the second part of this Table doth resolve this and all other Questions, of the like nature, by inspection onely.

Thus the present worth of 9 years after 12, is 1. 45688; that is, 1 l. 9 s. 1 d.

And the present worth of One pound Annuity for 4 years after 17 is, 0. 47720, which being reduced is 9 s. 6 d. 06. The like may be done for any other.
